A Global Event for Innovations, China's Leading Hi-tech Fair

——CHTF Has Received Great Attention from National Leaders Then and Now

In 1999, the first China Hi-Tech Fair (CHTF) was opened by then Premier Zhu Rongji. When meeting with overseas guests who visited Shenzhen to attend CHTF, Premier Zhu Rongji mentioned that the Chinese government would hold CHTF annually in order to quickly transform more scientific and technological achievements into market-competitive commodities. Meanwhile, he hoped China bring in more advanced science and technology, further expand exchanges and cooperation with other countries, and accelerate the growth of China's hi-tech industry through CHTF. During the 10th edition of CHTF, then Premier Wen Jiabao made a special instruction for the event, "Elevating the performance of CHTF to promote the industrialization of advanced technologies are of great significance to China's independent innovation, economic structure adjustment, and development mode transformation." Looking back to the past, many national leaders set high expectations for the event. Among them, Zhu Rongji, Wu Bangguo, Wang Yang, Li Xi, Huang Kunming, Wu Yi, and Zeng Peiyan have been present in person.

WHO WE ARE

China Hi-Tech Fair (CHTF) is a large-scale international event and China's premier tech show which demonstrates innovative technologies and products. Relying on Shenzhen's role as an international innovation center, CHTF has become an important window for China's high-tech field to open up to the outside world, and a top-level platform to help innovative tech companies increase brand awareness globally. Each year, China's national leaders attend CHTF's opening ceremony and deliver speeches. Over 150 delegations come from afar to explore groundbreaking technologies and new industry trends. A great many world-renowned companies, such as Microsoft, IBM, Oracle, Siemens, Huawei, Tencent, ZTE, BYD, DJI, Philips, SAP, Sony, and Samsung, have exhibited at this event.

In 2024, the 26th China Hi-Tech Fair will feature 20 top fast growing sectors, including China's Leading Heavy Equipment, Top Tech Industry Chains, Clean Energy, High-end Machinery Manufacturing and Low-altitude Economy & Space, etc. Meanwhile, about 150 activities referring to forums, conferences, business matchmaking events, roadshows, new product launches and on-site signing ceremonies will be held concurrently.

This image is a collage centered around the China Hi-Tech Fair 2023. At the top, there's a header bar with navigation links like 'Home', 'China', 'World', 'Politics', 'Business', 'Options', 'Tech & Sci', and utility icons for weather and time. Below this is a news article snippet from 'The Epoch Times' dated 22-23, 20-Nov-2023. The main headline reads 'Global innovators show confidence in Chinese market at Hi-Tech Fair 2023'. Underneath the headline are social media sharing icons for Facebook, Messenger, Email, Print, and others. A video player below the article shows a wide-angle view of a crowded exhibition hall with various booths and displays. To the left of the video, there are two smaller photographs: one showing people looking at a large digital screen or exhibit, and another showing a man standing next to a large, red, tractor-like vehicle. To the right of the video, there's a photograph of a woman in a blue lanyard speaking at a podium with microphones. The overall theme is technological innovation and international trade.
